OVERVIEW

Shannon is a paralegal with more than 15 years of experience supporting clients across a broad range of legal practices, performing all aspects of litigation case management.

Shannon uses her strong analytical, organizational, and investigative skills to assist attorneys with preparing for depositions, mediations, and trial. She compiles records for strategic litigation planning, handles document preservation and correction, and drafts interrogatories, requests for production, requests for admissions, and witness and exhibit lists.

Shannon received a Masters of Sciences in Technology Management from the University of St. Thomas in St. Paul, Minnesota.
